

Dayan claims U.S. blocking way to peace in Mideast

By United Press International

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said today the United States was blocking the way to a Middle East peace settlement by acceding to Egyptian demands and withholding the additional warplanes Israel requested last month.

Dayan also said the Soviet Union is interested in extending its influence in the area and hinted the West could use Israel as a base against the Russian thrust.

In Cairo, the semi-official newspaper Akhbar Al-Yom today published what it said was the details of a U.S. diplomat's plan for reopening of the Suez Canal, shut down since the June, 1967, Arab-Israeli war. The newspaper said Egypt rejected the plan because it did not include Israeli withdrawal from the Arab lands it seized in the war.

"The Egyptians present to the U.S. the demand to withhold planes from Israel as a condition for their agreement to negotiate a settlement," Dayan told a radio interviewer in Tel Aviv today. "And they look upon the U.S. as the lever with which to exert pressure on us."

"But, at the same time, the Soviet Union continues to supply the Egyptians with modern weapons. This situation bars prior agreements, the setting up of the framework for negotiations on a special settlement with the Egyptians."

Prime Minister Golda Meir had asked Washington on June 9 for more weapons to counterbalance the military commitments Moscow made to Cairo when the two nations signed their 15-year friendship treaty May 27.

Ellsberg in new charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The man who has acknowledged leaking the secret Pentagon papers to newsmen says the joint chiefs of staff withheld a vital report on the 1964 Tonkin Gulf incidents from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

The Washington Star Friday quoted Dr. Daniel Ellsberg as saying that the Tonkin study was carried out by the Rand Corp., which employed Ellsberg from 1967 to 1970. Rand also helped put together the top secret Pentagon study of the origins of the Vietnam war.

Ellsberg told the Star the Tonkin study was "deliberately withheld from the secretary of defense."

"The joint chiefs didn't want the secretary to see it... it had tapes of the secretary's conversations overseas," Ellsberg said.

McNamara did not learn about the study until he was asked about it at a hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in 1968, Ellsberg said.

Federal charges of stealing and turning over the Pentagon war study documents to the New York Times and other newspapers have been filed against Ellsberg. He told the Star that when he took the step, he "took it for granted that I would go to prison."

Russ said in no hurry to curb offensive arm

HELSINKI (UPI)—The Soviet Union will be in no hurry to commit itself to curbing offensive nuclear weapons in the current Strategic Arms Limitations Talks (SALT), with the United States, diplomatic sources said today.

Moscow, according to the sources, does not rule out negotiation on curbs on offensive rockets eventually, but considers the time not yet ripe for firm, meaningful commitment.

The talks, which resumed their fifth session Thursday, are to determine prospects of concrete agreement on curtailment of both defensive and offensive nuclear weapons.

The two delegations will meet next Tuesday in full session, meanwhile allowing their experts to prepare technical details for what officials term one of the most crucial negotiations of our time.

The Russians have come to the conference table in Helsinki with firm instructions to push for agreement with the United States on reduction of antimissile defenses.

25-acre rezoning before planners

Lompoc Planning Commission Monday will continue a public hearing to consider pre-zoning on a 25-acre parcel which is proposed for annexation to the city.

The parcel is located immediately north of the Grefco plant on the east edge of Lompoc. During the initial part of the hearing two weeks ago the commissioners said they wanted more information on a list of proposed manufacturing uses proposed by Grefco.

In other action, Monday, the commission was expected to consider the following:

—Further discussion of proposals for an overnight camping location.

—Discussion of zoning amendments.

—Routine action on meeting times.

—Election of officers. Roberg Kranig is the current president.

County budget woes

The Board of Supervisors, which has added to its record proposed $68.3 million budget on each of the three days of public hearings this week, is going to try to carry out some reductions when sessions resume on Tuesday morning, July 13, at the County Administration Building.

On Friday, the board managed to slash substantially some budgets for the first time.

County Medi-Cal costs to the county were shaved $61,113 under the earlier estimate of $2,293,985 budget. Medi-Cal expense is to take care of the indigent ill of the county.

The board also deleted $24,750 from the Los Prietos Boys Camp budget.

But later it added $24,000 additional county expense by agreeing to have two additional probation officers hired, and also added $4,356 to the Santa Barbara Municipal Court budget.

Santa Maria Hospital budget went up an additional $24,000 to finance a new pact providing for an anesthetist, and $4,000 was cut from maintenance costs.

The board took under consideration a suggestion by the County Taxpayers Assn., supported by the California Taxpayers' Assn., that this county take steps to change state law by acting in concert with other county boards on the matter of a closed end budget.

The county faces severe financial problems under a state close-end budget which would stop flow of reimbursement funds to the county for welfare, mental health and hospital aid when state funds were exhausted.

This would force the county — without a closed-end budget — to carry on the state mandated programs at its own expense.

A closed-end budget would give the county the opportunity of closing down the programs that could not be financed for lack of state-level funding.

But some supervisors saw a closed-end county budget as posing serious problems, too.

"We'd be on the firing line — with people beating on the doors — if we closed down local programs," said one.

The present Federal formula is to provide 75 per cent of administrative expense of welfare programs, except general relief, with the state providing 90 per cent of mental health and also aid on Medi-Cal expense. It is under these programs, however, with state partnership, that the county is in danger of inheriting overwhelming expenses the state earlier said it would pay.

Goldwater hopes U.S. will ask indictments

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Friday he hopes the Attorney General will seek indictment of the New York Times and Dr. Daniel Ellsberg for violation of the federal espionage act. In a television interview Friday night (The Dick Cavett Show, ABC-TV) Goldwater said the thing that disturbed him most about the Pentagon papers was "the fact that the New York Times was able to obtain these, either buy them, borrow them or steal them, from a person who did the same thing."

"Now, this is in violation of the Espionage Act just as clear as anything I have ever heard. The Rosenbergs were tried and convicted under this very act."

Nixon closes lid on SST; orders payment to airlines

SAN CLEMENTE (UPI) — President Nixon closed the lid on the coffin of the SST Friday, asking Congress to appropriate $58.5 million to repay commercial airlines for the money they spent to help build it.

Nixon's action was contained in a budget amendment calling for the elimination of a $235 million appropriation for the airplane.

The supersonic jetliner was killed by Congress despite two efforts by the administration to revive it.

The $58.5 million represents funds contributed at the request of the government in 1967 toward development of the program by airlines which had placed delivery orders.

The funds were used by the airplane's builder, Boeing Aircraft

Corp., of Seattle, as part of the government's share of the contract costs.

Also Friday, the Western White House announced the President had reversed an earlier decision and agreed to furnish an additional $15 million to feed poverty-stricken children during the summer.

Gerald L. Warren, Nixon's deputy press secretary, said the President decided to approve requests that funds for the program, which is designed to replace the school lunches needy children receive during the school year, be expanded to $33 million.

The disclosure came in a letter from Budget Director George P. Schultz to Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J.

IT TOOK THE county fire department only three minutes to bring this grass fire under control at the east end of Uranus Avenue yesterday in Vandenberg Village. Officials said children playing with matches started the fire, which burned a half acre of grass on property belonging to the Vandenberg Village Development Company.

Fire departments answer six calls

Lompoc and county fire departments responded to six calls yesterday afternoon and this morning but only four of them were valid.

Ironically, county firefighters were enroute to help the city with a grass fire but were called to another on the Collier Ranch on Santa Rosa Road. The second fire turned out to be smoke drifting over the hills from the city fire.

The city's fire, at 7:40 p.m., burned seven acres in the 500 block on South R Street before being brought under control.

Fire officials said it apparently was caused by children playing with fireworks. The property belongs to Dr. Erwin Holloway.

The city department also rolled on a car fire this morning, 7:55, near the intersection of Hickory Avenue and G Street.

A battery cable apparently shorted and caused $25 worth of damage to a car owned by George Palmer, 853 Camphor Court, Vandenberg AFB, officials said.

The county fire department took only three minutes to control half acre grass fire off East Uranus Avenue in Vandenberg Village.

Officials said children playing with matches caused the fire, on property owned by the Vandenberg Village Development Company.

County firefighters yesterday also responded to a call concerning a car fire in which people were trapped. While enroute, however, the department was notified by the California Highway Patrol that the people were safe and there was no fire.

The incident reportedly occurred on Highway 246 six miles east of Lompoc.

$34.2 million dope haul with arrests in three cases

NEW YORK (UPI)—Customs officials and city police seized $34.2 million worth of heroin and cocaine in three unrelated cases within 24 hours and arrested 10 persons, including the son of Panama's ambassador to Nationalist China who tried to evade customs through diplomatic immunity.

The 310 pounds of illicit drugs were accumulated in a raid Thursday night at a luxury apartment in Queens, another raid in Manhattan early Friday and the seizure of $20 million worth of heroin at Kennedy Airport.

The Panamanian ambassador's son, Rafael Richard, 23, of Panama City, allegedly tried to smuggle 175 pounds of pure heroin through customs in five pieces of luggage. Arrested with Richard was Nicolas Polanco, 30, also of Panama City, and a third Panamanian, Guillermo Gonzales, was arrested later in connection with the seizure.

All three were arraigned in Brooklyn Federal Court and held in lieu of $500,000 bail each.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Edward Boyd said Richard tried to evade customs inspection by claiming diplomatic immunity. But, Boyd said, his passport did not have the proper immunity specifications.

A Customs official said Richard's luggage brought in aboard a Braniff jetliner from Panama "contained no clothing but about 150 pounds of heroin in plastic envelopes and covered with brown wrapping paper." He estimated the street value of the drugs at $20 million.

Earlier Friday, police working with information supplied by an unidentified undercover agent seized 34 pounds of cocaine worth $1.7 million at a Manhattan apartment. Narcotics detectives said the raid was carried out shortly after the drugs arrived in the country from Latin America.

Arrested were Luis Disla, 28, a native of the Dominican Republic, who police said was the contact man for the cocaine purchase, and Luis Perez, 36, also a Dominican, and Gerardo Perez Arana, 43, a native of Colombia.

Little sleep in Londonderry

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Barricades went up in the Bogside district today and the sound of gunfire and the smell of tear gas heralded the funerals of two Roman Catholic youths killed by soldiers.

For the sixth consecutive night Londonderry did not sleep. Children roamed the streets hurling trucks and the glint of gun barrels could be seen in the alleys.

Shots rang out intermittently after midnight, bringing fearful men and women outdoors in their dressing gowns. Some joined youths in building barricades out of paving stones to seal off the Bogside, a Roman Catholic area of Londonderry.

"The shooting is quite indiscriminate," said an army spokesman. "We don't know how many weapons there are and we don't know where the firing is coming from."

Proxmire links Lockheed loan to Nixon-California politics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., says President Nixon's desire to carry California in the 1972 election motivates his proposal that Congress underwrite a $250 million loan to Lockheed Aircraft.

Proxmire's contention that "firms with influence with the President and prominent members of Congress" will benefit most under the Nixon-backed bill providing government-guaranteed loans to troubled corporations brought a Senate Banking Committee hearing to life Friday. Republicans said they resented and rejected Proxmire's view.

"It is a fact of life that California is the most important state in the 1972 election," Proxmire said. "We (Senators) may not talk about this publicly but we talk about it privately."

Lockheed is a major employer in California and the union representing its employees, the International Association of Machinists, is campaigning for the loan guarantee.

Under the bill, a board Sheriff seeks to further career?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sheriff Peter Pitchess purged his anti-riot squad, accused of brutality during student riot duty, because he feared for his image as a candidate to succeed J. Edgar Hoover as head of the FBI, charged a spokesman for the ousted deputies Thursday.

An assistant to Pitchess denied he was after the job. Pitchess broke up the 90-man squad, officially named the Special Enforcement Bureau, Wednesday. A federal grand jury investigated the squad's alleged brutality during student riots earlier this year at Isla Vista in Santa Barbara county.

Santa Barbara authorities were given the grand jury's findings, and said criminal charges may be brought against some of the deputies, if the evidence is strong enough. Residents of Isla Vista claimed the Los Angeles deputies broke into homes, hauled persons out of their bedrooms and beat unresisting prisoners.

Pitchess said Wednesday the Isla Vista controversy played a part in his decision to disband the special squad, but was not the main reason.

William J. Ramey, attorney for the Los Angeles County's Professional Peace Officers Association, called Pitchess' move a "purge" for disciplinary reasons, not a routine administrative move.

CBS vs. Congress

Here is the background. CBS produced a brilliantly effective documentary called "The Selling of the Pentagon."

Its thesis is that the Pentagon does a lot of PR work, which I found about as surprising as Mr. Agnew's revelation that the networks tend to show a leftward bias. The issue was then raised, and intelligently discussed, whether the documentary had engaged in rather unusual distortions. Any polemical account of anything engages in what one might call distortions, i.e., the stressing of one set of points, and the understressing of another.

But it was charged that CBS did more: that the producer took words uttered by a Pentagon official in answer to one set of questions, and appended them to a different set of questions, so as to give the viewer the impression that said Pentagon official was being very perverse and very unresponsive.

At this point a congressional committee began to take an interest in the case, and notified CBS president Dr. Frank Stanton that it desired to see all the film that had been taken, from which the final had been put together. To this indecacy, Dr. Stanton replied: no, citing the freedom of the press. And, indeed, no journalist gladly permits others to see his notes, no artist his early drafts. But Congressman Harley Staggers of the House Commerce Committee turns out to be a tough hombre, and he promptly subpoenaed the CBS rushes. Dr. Stanton refused to produce them, whereupon the subcommittee voted to find him in contempt, and now the senior committee, by a two to one vote, concurs and the House of Representatives will be asked to say yes or no.

Dr. Stanton, who is the soul of honor, insists on reducing the conflict to generic terms. "All this boils down to," he said, "is one central and vital question: is this country going to continue to have a free press, or is indirect censorship to be imposed upon it? The issue is as simple as that."

But surely the issue is not as simple as that. It is more complicated than that. Congressman Staggers, who by the way is a Democrat, put it this way, in answering Dr. Stanton: "This is the most powerful media we have in America today and you talk about 'chilling effect'...Where there is untruth put over these networks, they can control this land, and you know they can."

Congressman Clarence J. Brown came to the defense of CBS, if not exactly in just the way Dr. Stanton would have liked. "CBS has a right to lie," said Mr. Brown, "and does so frequently." But then Mr. Brown suggested that CBS should devise its own safeguards against a repetition of such distortions as the Pentagon commentary was guilty of. "It is not up to me to decide what's untruthful, biased and slanted, but if Frank Stanton doesn't wake up to the fact that he has a responsibility to the American people, the people will take care of him—or we will take care of him some other way."

Surely Congress is making its own simple point, which is that broadcast licensees, unlike newspaper publishers, are already regulated as it stands, via such articles as the Fairness Doctrine, and that Congress has a continuing responsibility to oversee the broad rules by which the broadcasters are governed.

As recently as in 1959, when the Communications Act was amended, Congress, in granting certain immunities to the television industry, wrote that "nothing in the foregoing...shall be construed as relieving broadcasters in connection with the presentation of...news, documentaries...from the obligation imposed upon them under this Act, to afford reasonable opportunity for the discussion of conflicting views on issues of public importance."

Meanwhile, deep down in the news story, one learns that CBS has just now issued a directive governing future news documentaries.

"One (directive)" — to quote a summary of it, "requires that, if the answer to one question asked of an interviewed person is taken from a reply to another question, the viewer must be so advised." Those who know Frank Stanton will know that his reforms were instituted because of his own commitment to fairness. But those who don't know Frank Stanton will quite understandably believe that his reforms were instituted because of congressional pressure. And that, children, is what congressional pressure is all about.

'70 sugar beet crop a record

California's 1970 sugar beet crop has set all-time records in tonnage per acre and sugar content, according to final figures announced this week by headquarter's spokesman, Malcolm Young, of the California Beet Growers Association.

At the same time, it was announced that growers Burton W. Sharer and Owen S. Rice of Santa Maria will attend the annual summer meeting of the CBGA's Board of Directors in Santa Barbara July 15 and 16.

Sharer serves as president of district 8 of the grower association and Rice is a director - at - large on the state Board of the CBGA.

At Santa Barbara, CBGA directors will hear reports from their research, proportionate shares, public relations and contract committees. The latter opened negotiations with sugar processors last week for 1972 contracts.

With all figures now final, 1970 — the centennial year of sugar beet production in California — set all-time production records. At Stockton, CBGA executive manager Malcolm Young announced average statewide production of 25.6 tons per acre, four tons better than the average of the past five years. Sugar content of the crop was 15 1/2 per cent, best since 1955. A total of 7.424 - million tons of beets were produced from 290,000 acres.

"It was a year particularly free from disease in all parts of the state and growing conditions were near perfect," Young said.

At the same time, Young said the outlook for the current crop is "normal," in the range of 22 tons per acre.

"This year we have sugar beet yellows in many fringe areas of beet - free districts," Young explained, adding that — with 1971 acreage up 30,000 — total production should approximately equal that of 1970.

A foremost consideration for members of the CBGA Board of Directors at the Santa Barbara meeting will be the current efforts to secure a renewal of the 37-year-old U.S. Sugar Act, slated to expire Dec. 31.

"The need for early renewal is an urgent matter to growers who must make plans for 1972 acreage in late summer and fall," said Sharer.

"The version of the Act already passed by the House is very close to what the industry would like in a final bill. Now we're hoping for Senate action in time for a conference committee to reach agreement before Congress recesses in August," Sharer added.

The machine is one of two designed and developed by Hollis, a senior at California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, as an assignment for a series of courses taught by Wysock. Both he and Wysock are members of the Cal Poly faculty.

Student builds blood reconstituting machine

SAN LUIS OBISPO — Two machines that will greatly reduce the cost of operation at the Tri-Counties Blood Bank have been designed and built by a student at California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo.

Fred Hollis, of San Mateo, a 24-year-old senior majoring in industrial technology, recently constructed two agglomeration cell - washing machines — more commonly known as blood reconstituting machines — as an answer to a need expressed by the Santa Barbara-based bank.

Purpose of the machine is to take frozen red blood cells that have previously been separated from white cells and, with the aid of a saline solution mixed with glycerine, reconstitute the whole blood cell.

This is a necessary process since blood in its whole state will last no longer than 21 days before spoilage. Separation enables the red cells to live up to five years and any time during that period the cells may be reconstituted with the aid of the machine. Hollis, along with his faculty adviser, Ray Wysock, began designing the machine for a drawing assignment in a general metals class during the Fall Quarter, 1970. Actual construction of the machine began during the following quarter and was completed during the last month as part of a special problems project for the Industrial Technology Department.

First developed six to seven years ago, blood reconstituting machines sold for a cost of approximately $10,000. Today the cost has been reduced to $350-$400 on the average and the two machines constructed at Cal Poly were built for approximately $50 apiece.

"This little machine takes the place of the $10,000 machine," according to Dr. Laurence L. McLellan, medical director of the Tri-Counties Blood Bank.

"It makes it possible to level out the peaks and valleys in blood donations. We are the only bank of our size that uses the freezing process for blood storage. Generally, only the large

Lompoc School District to combat unexcused absences

Lompoc public school administrators feel the need to reverse the growing youth "syndrome" of unexcused absence from class is so great they are willing this coming year to underwrite, if necessary, the cost of hiring a senior probation officer to work through the County Probation Department.

This position was explained Friday before the Board of Supervisors scrutinizing a recommended $922,314 probation department budget. It was enunciated by Lompoc Unified School District Superintendent Glen Wegner.

Wegner said "there were 23,341 days of unexcused absences among our 14,000 students last year." The "significant and negative behavior" of staying away from school without valid excuse "is now spreading from the high schools and junior high to the upper elementary schools," he said.

He declared the school district has money budgeted for the probation officer position.

"We want to break up this syndrome," he added. "A good probation officer can reason with youth so they often will go back to school."

He felt other school districts "are not facing the problem."

Probation Officer Clifford Romer said Lompoc school district was the only one in the county willing to stand the cost of a probation officer — should Federal funding through the state government for a projected county-wide high school district program not come through.

The supervisors agreed to add approximately $88,000 to the department budget — with offsetting revenue of more than $69,000 reimbursement anticipated from the funded schools program through the California Council on Criminal Justice.

The board approved a request by Romer for two additional county-funded probation officer positions to add about $24,000 to the budget. Romer had asked for four new positions, warning "our case backlog could wind up in jail."

Funding through the CCCJ is also expended to finance an approved new position of a delinquency prevention officer to coordinate volunteer work, a post paying $12,240.

Boys camp fate nears

The fate of Los Prietos Boys Camp in the upper Santa Ynez Valley — a joint operation of Santa Barbara and Ventura counties — may hinge on a reevaluation and report on the project to be made later this year by the county administrative office.

County supervisors — getting the news that Ventura County has served notice on the county it is intending to withdraw from the joint pact and perhaps build its own facility — agreed with Administrative Officer Raymond D. Johnson that an in-depth study of the camp for delinquent youths is now in order.

Supervisors approved a $397,340 budget for the boys camp — slicing the proposed budget by $24,750 in equipment — in authorizing its continuance for another fiscal year at least.

By the end of the year, Johnson will submit his new study to furnish supervisors with a guideline of how to proceed in the 1972-73 fiscal year.

Complex planned for S.Y.

A multi-million dollar golf-oriented recreational and residential development is sought for a Santa Ynez Valley site near the town of Santa Ynez.

Insignis, Inc., of Santa Barbara, has applied for rezoning of a 470-acre parcel south of State Rt. 246 and west of Refugio Rd. from estate and agricultural zoning to a design residential classification.

The rezoning bid is not in conformance with the General Plan, and a public hearing on a General Plan amendment would be required.

The property is owned by Mesa Verde Rancho, of Solvang, and lies just north of Santa Ynez River not far from the Santa Ynez Valley Union High School.

Charles K. Schmandt, Santa Barbara architect, signed the application for rezoning as an agent for the applicant.

Plans call for 470 dwelling units in addition to a golf course, clubhouse, driving range, tennis courts, swimming pool, and other features. Dwelling units would include 89 on estates of one and two and one-half acres each. Cluster apartments would be furnished in two, three and four bedrooms to make up the other units.

The clubhouse plans call for dining rooms, a cocktail lounge, pro shop, locker rooms, and other accommodations.

About one-fourth of the 470-acre property is zoned in conformity with the General Plan.

Dear Abby

'Abby, you know how people talk'

DEAR ABBY: There is a young married woman (she is also a mother) who I feel is damaging the reputation of a fine young bachelor minister in our community.

This woman goes to his house daily to do his house cleaning, and she stays most of the afternoon to do the bookkeeping for the parish. I know this minister is above doing anything wrong, but you know how people talk.

This woman's staying around to work on the books makes it difficult for anyone else to come and talk with the minister when they need his help. How can she be told she should do the book work at her own home? It would be much better for the pastor's reputation, and it would at least give some others a chance.

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: I doubt that anyone who needs the minister's help would be discouraged from seeking it because the bookkeeper was under the same roof. Are you honestly concerned about the minister's reputation? Or is it "the others" who aren't getting a chance?

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of parents who allow their children to ask guests for money?

While visiting recently, my host's 3-year-old toddled out with her piggy bank and requested a donation. When I said I had no pennies, she peered into my open purse and said, "OK, then give me a dime or a quarter."

Chicken - hearted, I gave her some change while her parents smiled indulgently, and the mother said, "Isn't that cute? She always does that when we have company."

Abby, I like youngsters, but I disapprove of their DEAR ABBY: I've been having a real battle with myself. I've been married for 10 years, have had two babies and I have completely lost my figure. My bosom is so flat and saggy I just hate to look at myself in the mirror.

My husband hasn't shown any signs of being dissatisfied with me the way I am, but what man wouldn't appreciate a round, firm, fully - packed wife? (I never was very big up there, but now I don't have a thing.)

I know a good plastic surgeon who does silicone implants and I would like to have it done. Should I surprise my husband and have the operation when he is out of town on one of his business trips? (He's gone for five days every six weeks.) I have my own money.

FLAT AND TEMPTED

DEAR FLAT: Don't "surprise" your husband. Better yet, take him to the surgeon so he will know exactly what is involved. Many surgeons refuse to perform that type of surgery without the knowledge and consent of the patient's husband.

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think it is extremely rude to ask a 40-year-old bachelor why he has never married?

FRISCO

DEAR FRISCO: Yes. Especially if you think you know.

EN GARDE! Infidelity is on Boney Boniface's mind. But, his wife unpetite Angeliqne, is there to block his flight from her own very large reality. Earl Frounfelter and Margie Moe appear in the Pacific Conservatory of

Fair study asked on shuttle

A fair and unbiased consideration of California's proposed Space Shuttle launch and retrieval sites by NASA was urged today by the California Chamber of Commerce.

In a letter sent from John T. Hay, Chamber executive vice president, to Dr. Floyd Thompson, chairman of the Site Evaluation Board for NASA, Hay stated the Chamber was concerned about the time, energy, investigation, and committee membership that has been focused primarily on Florida's Kennedy Space Center.

"We need and request an equally detailed, on-site examination of the validity of our primary California candidates, Vandenberg and Edwards Air Force Bases, and their combined usefulness," Hay said.

"We believe that a decision for the California sites has logic, necessity, and technically justifiable reasons behind it," added Hay. "while a decision for Cape Kennedy starts from overtones of self-perpetuation."

In another letter, addressed to Dr. Russell Drew, Assistant to the Science Advisor to the President, Hay urged that the site-decision reflect a logical and justifiable investigation of the facts, with priorities given to strategic necessity, suitability for the largest volume of missions, demonstrated experience, compatibility of weather, and the nearness to manufacturing resources for efficiency and economy reasons. "A decision in favor of Vandenberg - Edwards Air Force bases, where the bulk of this nation's space shots continue, will facilitate budgetary phasing-in of California as the Space Shuttle base; whereas a decision for the Kennedy Space Center may prompt too early expenditures there to forestall mothballing of a base suffering from declining importance."

Supervisor budget action

The County Board of Supervisors this week took the following action:

—Approved a $2.1 million County Fire Department budget and backed Fire Chief Vic Mohr in his request for two additional firemen to maintain the reduced work week schedule. The force was raised from 144 to 146 men.

—Held up action on county airport budgets at Santa Ynez and Lompoc, pending a study by the administrative office. The possibility of them functioning as a self-supporting enterprise was brought up, although T-hanger rates and tie-down rates were recently boosted by county order.

—Approved $1,500 for acoustical tile ceiling in Solvang Memorial Building, a project deferred from last year.

—Discussed advisability of cutting County Planning Commission membership to five and meetings from weekly to bi-monthly. But it was agreed to place the meeting cut discussion on the agenda next week, and hold off on any action on commission membership cuts to a time when county redistricting would be decided.

Supervisor Catterlin said he felt a reduction from nine to five members was in order, to match the number of supervisors. Otherwise, he said, he wanted his Second District to have two, as have the other four districts.

"That would make a Mexican standoff of 10, and that would be impossible, so I feel five-one from each district — would be better," he said.

Planning commissioners are paid $25 for each weekly session and 10 cents per mile for travel costs, plus luncheons. It amounts to about $300 expense per meeting.

—Authorized appropriation of $52,850 — with federal reimbursement in large measure — for the second phase of a scheduled three-phase Public Allocation Services Study. The proposed budget sum of $87,350 for professional and special services was chopped more than $34,000.

County looks for ways to count election ballots

County officials indicated Friday they are ready to cry for a halt to the $748,000 investment they have in 23 Votronic vote-counting machines under control of the election division of the county clerk's office.

The Board of Supervisors rejected a request for a further $137,394 appropriation over a three-year period to finance five more of the electronic units. Twenty-three have been purchased.

At the same time, the board agreed to have Administrative Officer Raymond D. Johnson and County Clerk J.E. Lewis conduct a joint survey and reevaluation of the present equipment and "look at other approaches not so expensive."

Ventura County has invested only $42,000 in vote-counters, it was stated, and has a reasonably fast as well as accurate count during major elections.

The county purchased its 23 machines under a lease purchase agreement with Cubic Corp. covering a four-year span ending with the past fiscal year. During the lease-purchase term Cubic served the machines — some of which are stationed at Santa Maria and Lompoc as well as in Santa Barbara — at $25 per machine per year.

There is no thought of an eventual return to the method of hand-counting, county authorities admitted, but it was felt "there must be some more economical system which can provide fast and accurate counts."

They pointed out the present pacts leads them "on and on" in the contract with Cubic to keep acquiring more expensive machines and incur stepped-up maintenance costs if more machines are not purchased regularly.

80,000 youths to battle drugs

Seventh-day Adventists in Brazil have placed an "army of 80,000 young people" at the disposal of the Brazilian Government, according to a report just received here at the church's world headquarters.

The army of youth will join with the Minister of Education, Jarbas Passarinho, in a tight battle against narcotics.

Enoch de Oliveira, secretary of the South American Division of the Adventist Church, who reported the special army, said that the assignment came in response to a request by the Brazilian Minister of Education, who had expressed to church officials the concern of the government over increasing addiction to drugs and alcoholism in Brazil.

The government has mounted a campaign against these vices, said Oliveira.

Activities for the week include two youth camps, the Associational camp for grades four through eight at the Arroyo Grande Christian Camp, and the annual State Youth Assembly at Jeness Park near Pinecrest in the high Sierra mountains. The Youth Camp is for high schoolers and college age.

Jehovah meeting slated

Among the 55,000 delegates expected at the Los Angeles Dodger Stadium for the "Divine Name" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, July 14-18, will be thousands of children and teenagers. A number will be present from the Lompoc congregation in this area.

"The world is beset with problems of rebellion and disobedience of youth, but not so the youth of Jehovah's Witnesses," said Neal Whitaker. "This is because they don't want to become a part of the heavy burden placed on society.

They have found the means of coping with the problems by regular attendance at their assemblies and by weekly study of the Bible with the entire family.

"It is vital in these critical times that families do things together," continued Whitaker. "This is most important when it applies to family worship and recreation. The five-day assembly will feature timely information dealing with youths and their problems, as well as counsel for grownups. It is also designed to teach respect for authority and to show parents how to communicate with their children."

The assembly program with 29 featured speakers will include many other participants. All sessions are open to the public. It is being sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, who conduct Bible education work throughout the earth.

Pageant at Palmyra

A spectacular attraction of the summer season is the Mormon Pageant on Hill Cumorah near Palmyra, N.Y., an annual event since 1937 which draws upwards of 100,000 visitors from throughout the nation. Scheduled this year July 26-31, the pageant recreates on 25 stages over an area larger than a football field the Mormon story of the destruction of an ancient American civilization.

Trevino wins British Open

SOUTHPORT, England (UPI) —Lee Trevino, squandering a five-stroke lead and taking a disastrous seven on the 17th, barely hung on today to win the British Open golf championship with a closing round 70 for 278, one stroke ahead of Liang Huan Lu of Taiwan who had a 70 for a total of 279.

Tony Jacklin of England was third with a closing 71 for 280.

Craig Defoy, also of England although he was born in Pennsylvania, came in with a 69 for a 281 total.

Defending champion Jack Nicklaus fired an eagle three on the 18th to post a 69 and a four round total of 283. Also at that level was Masters champion Charles Coody, who shot a 68 today.

Gary Player was in with a 72 and a 284 total.

Trevino had threatened to blow the course apart, roaring through the first nine in an astonishing 31 to leave Lu five strokes back. But the Chinese 35-year-old Chinese never wavered while Trevino had a pair of bogeys and then took a double bogey seven on the seventeenth to cut his lead to one stroke.

Lu fired a pair of 35s while Trevino tacked a 39 to his 31.

Lee won the Canadian Open at Montreal last week to go with his U.S. Open victory at Merion.

He knocked in a five-footer at the first for a birdie and salvaged par on the second with a knee-shaker of 20 feet. At the third he canned one from 11 feet and then picked up two birdies in a row with threes at the 5th and 6th.

A par three at the 7th, his fifth three in a row, and two par fours saw him out in 31 and poised for a great win.

Roberto de Vincenzo, 48-year-old Argentinian, Dale Hayes of South Africa and Briton Peter Oosterhuis who were all on six under 213, fell away on the outward half.

De Vincenzo and Hayes turned in 37 and Oosterhuis shot a four-over 39.

Billy Casper, put together halves of 33-34 for 67 to finish in 284 — 8 under par.

Doug Sanders, beaten in a playoff by Nicklaus for last year's title, also shot a final round 67 with halves of 33-34 for 285.

Trevino and Lu both snapped birdie fours at the 517 yards 13th, to make the Mexican 15 under with five to play and the Chinese 11 under. Trevino then bogied the 14th when his second found a sand trap.

Jacklin birdied the 13th to go nine-under and stayed that way through the 15th. Player was six-under at the 68 hole stage.

Bert Yancey shot a fantastic back nine of 32, six-under par, for a 71 and 287. He had birdies at the 11th, 13th, 15th and 16th and an eagle three at the 17th. His front nine, however, was a bogey-strewn 39.

Dave Stockton, former PGA champion, also reached a 287 total with a 35-36—71.

Australians Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson, both former champions, returned 69s.

14-year-old leads Aussie swim team

SANTA CLARA (UPI) —A blonde teen-ager who loves spaghetti and wears braces on her teeth is leading the re-emergence of Australia as a world swimming power.

Soft-spoken, 14-year-old Shane Gould, who entered international competition only a few months ago, shattered the women's 400-meter freestyle record Friday at the opening of the three-day Santa Clara Invitational swimming and diving meet.

She splashed to a 4:21.23 victory over Karen Moras, a 17-year-old brunette who, like Shane, is a member of the Ryde Swimming Club of Sydney. Miss Moras, who set the old world mark of 4:22.6 at London in April while beating Miss Gould, finished five seconds behind her in second place Friday.

"I was hoping for something around the record," said Shane. "I hope to do a few good times and make the Australian Olympic team next year."

"Karen was a very good sport and accepted the loss graciously. But the next time I guess it will be her turn to win."

While setting the 22nd world mark in five years at the meet, Shane was timed in 1:03.84 for the first 100 meters, 2:09.64 at the halfway point and 3:16.04 at 300 meters.

Miss Gould ate canned spaghetti on toast for breakfast and followed it with a light lunch of spaghetti, peas and string beans for lunch "because I would be unable to digest steak." Then she went out and opened the fifth annual event with a meet record of 59.27 in the 100 freestyle.

Miss Gould, who tied countrywoman Dawn Fraser's world 100 mark of 58.9 and broke American Debbie Meyer's world standard in the 200 meter freestyle at London in April, became the first girl to crack the one-minute mark in the 100 at Santa Clara. She clipped 34 hundredths of a second off Sue Pederson's meet mark set in 1968.

At Babe Ruth section tourney

VAFB whips Nipomo, 17-7; only four teams remain

By BOB PELLERIN Staff Writer

Vandenberg AFB's 14-15-year-old Babe Ruth squad was swinging from the heels Tuesday and they got beat in the Southern Section, District Three tournament opener. They forgot about trying for singles and hit long balls that amounted to nice looking outs. San Luis Obispo won, 4-1.

So they took a little batting practice. No, they took a lot of batting practice. They worked for six hours both Wednesday and Thursday, learning how to hit just singles again.

It paid off. Yesterday the base club hit 11 singles and added a double and triple as well, to clobber Nipomo 17-7 in their second game of the double elimination tournament.

With the victory, Vandenberg becomes one of the four remaining clubs in the tourney. The squad was scheduled to return to action today at 1 p.m. against Arroyo Grande, which beat Paso Robles 5-1 yesterday.

In today's opening game the tourney's two undefeated squads—Lompoc and San Luis — were scheduled to meet at 10 a.m. The winner of the Vandenberg - Arroyo game will then play the loser of the Lompoc-San Luis contest at 4 p.m. today.

The tournament is being held at Atascadero Lake County Park.

Winner of the tourney will be decided in the final round tomorrow. The winner will meet the Northern Section, District Three champion in a best-of-three series for the right to proceed to statewide competition.

In yesterday's victory, Vandenberg got balanced hitting in its 13-hit barrage of four Nipomo pitchers. First-baseman Jim Strasler led the club with three singles in six trips, good for four runs batted in.

But there were other hitting stars. Outfielder Wayne Dake slugged a two-run triple and a single in three at-bats. Shortstop Bruce Duncan, catcher Steve Higgason, and third-baseman Pete Dennington each collected a pair of hits in the romp.

Left-hander Mike Hetzler pitched the victory for the base squad, though he was plagued with control problems. He hit a wild streak, walking eight men, but his curve was good enough to strike out nine batters as he went the distance on the mound.

The hitters did the rest of the work. They bunched their singles nicely, scoring in every inning but the sixth.

"We finally settled down and started stroking the ball," said Barry Nelson, president of the Vandenberg Babe Ruth league. "Tuesday they were slugging for the fence, but yesterday they just poked the ball for good line-drive singles."

The big damage came in the fifth, after Vandenberg had a commanding lead.

Ledgerwood places in meet

"Karen Ledgerwood, is the most improved athlete in the Club," says Maurice Sipes, the coach of the Lompoc Valley Girls Track Club.

Karen and three other club members were invited to compete in the Age-Group National Championships in Bakersfield, Thursday.

As a first year competitor, Karen ran the mile run Thursday to set a new club record and place sixth in the race.

The small framed 13-year-old, who will be attending Lompoc High in the fall, breezed through the first 440 in 74.9. She hit the 880 in 2:37, the 1320 in 4:02.8. Then came back with an 81.9 last quarter to finish in 5:24.7. The old club record was 5:26.5.

Karen's co-runner in the mile run, Kim Jeter, did not place but did have a fine time of 5:38.8.

Beckie Zeigler competed in the 12-13 year-old 880 yard run. This half miler recently had strep throat and was still weak, but she ran the 880 in 2:31, a time which is in the top 12 times in the nation. Beckie's time in the National Championships was way off her personal best of 2:24.4. She finished near the end of the 12 girl race.

In the nine and under age group, Arianna Harrison ran a good 660, in 2:02.5, but could not place above tenth.

The club members are now on vacation, but will return to practice in August, when the club will hold a ten day cross country training camp, hopefully at Shafer Lake.

Baseball nines triumph

Both of the Valley's high school baseball teams snagged wins last night in Santa Maria. In the Hancock Instructional league Cabrillo downed Santa Maria, 9-2, and Lompoc beat Righetti, 4-2.

Lompoc and Righetti were tied in the seventh, 2-2. Sammy Collier, Greg Charboneau and Rod Townes loaded the bases with a hit apiece, and no outs. Then Kelly Candaele and Russ Bollinger each hit sacrifice flies to drive Collier and Charboneau home for the two runs.

The pitching of Bill Boyer and the hitting of Howard Cornstock lead Cabrillo to their decision over Santa Maria.

By the fourth inning Boyer had faced 15 batters and had struck out ten of those. He didn't give up a hit or a run while on the mound.

Cornstock is ripping in his seven-game hitting streak. He hit two doubles and a single for five runs-batted-in.

The Instructional league teams will play again Tuesday on Elks field in Santa Maria. Cabrillo will play Righetti at 5:30 p.m. and Lompoc and Santa Maria will play at 8 p.m.

Legion teams play at home tomorrow

By Mac Fisher

The Lompoc American Legion nine will be trying to wrap up the league title this weekend while the Vandenberg Village Legion will try to jump a few notches in the standings today and tomorrow.

Lompoc plays at Paso Robles today and at home against Arroyo Grande tomorrow in an 11 a.m. game. The Villagers visit the San Luis Realtors today and host the Santa Ynez Legion Sunday at Cabrillo in an 11 a.m. contest.

Lompoc, in first place with a 7-0 record as of yesterday, will hurl Ted Torres and Bob Aguilar this weekend. Rounding out the lineup are first baseman Don Landry, second baseman Carlos Gonzales, shortstop Jeff Bratz and third scaker Roy Howell. Catching will be Tom Harmon and Kelly Candaele, and the outfielders will be Bobby Grossini, Dave Stegmen and Steve Glover.

The Villagers (5-5) will have Ernie Martin and Bill Boyer on the mound this weekend. Catching for coach John Ervin will be Matt Goodrich, while the first basemen will be platooned. The Villagers leading hitter Pat Dampier will be at second or third, while steady Bruce Atkins will cover shortstop. Pitcher-outfielder Dennis Hall will be in the probable starting line-up, as will Rick Martinich and Basil Brown.

League play will end next week for the local teams. The Villagers will play at Arroyo Grande on July 17, while both the Village and Lompoc clash on the 18th. Lompoc will play at Santa Ynez next Saturday.

Lompoc possibly will schedule several practice games around the local area with semi-pro teams in order to get ready for the upcoming American Legion baseball playoffs.

McCovey returns to lead Giants over slumping L.A.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A banner crowd of more than 55,000 jammed into Dodger Stadium and it seemed that most of them came there with the express purpose of booing Juan Marichal.

Marichal, the high-kicking pitcher who is graceful as a gazelle, started for the Giants against the Dodgers Friday night. Going back to last season, he had a six-game personal winning streak against the Dodgers.

The Los Angeles crowd which seems to cheer only Willie Mays of the visitors booed Marichal when he threw his swift one close to Dodger batters and they angrily ranted at him each time he came to bat.

If this had been the covered Astrodome in Houston, one could have said the crowd raised the roof when Marichal left the game in the seventh inning, trailing 4-1.

As it turned out Marichal was not involved in the decision. His Giants got six runs in the ninth and pulled the game out by a 7-4 score, much to the chagrin of the Dodgers and their numerous fans. There were some happy faces in the stands, at least 260 Bay Area residents who came here to watch the Giants.

Willie McCovey, in only his second game since he came off the disabled list with a bad knee, got two hits, including a bases-loaded double in the big ninth. Another key blow was a single by catcher Dick Dietz who knocked in two of the six runs.

Veteran relief pitcher Don McMahon toiled on the mound for only one inning, the eighth, but he got credit for the win. His record is 6-4.

Jim Brewer, Dodger southpaw who is usually stingy with the batters, came on in relief of Claude Osteen in the ninth and gave up three hits before he was replaced by Pete Mikkelsen who finally got the side out. Brewer took the loss and is now 4-3.

The loss was the fifth straight for the Dodgers who have what seems like a rather weak hold on second place in the National League West. It looks like the Giants are galloping into

Renko hurls 2nd one-hitter

United Press International

Steve Renko of the Montreal Expos celebrated the first monthly anniversary of his first major league one-hitter in grandiose style Friday night by pitching another one.

Renko, who one-hit the San Francisco Giants on June 9, tossed a one-hitter against the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night as he hurled the Expos to a 3-0 victory. The only hit Renko allowed was a first inning single by Willie Montanez.

Steve Carlton's five-hit pitching enabled the Cardinals to win the first game and Julian Javier's hitting paced the Cards to a victory in the second game of their doubleheader with Houston. Javier drove in four runs with a pair of triples in the second game. Doug Rader and Jim Wynn homered for Houston in the ninth.

Willie Stargell and Manny Sanguillen drove in four runs apiece as the Pirates boosted their Eastern Division lead to eight games over the Mets. Stargell connected for his 29th homer of the season and drove in four runs while Sanguillen also drove in four runs with three hits, including a three-run triple.

George Foster and pitcher Wayne Grander hit homers to pace the Reds' victory as Cincinnati tagged Tom Seaver with his fifth loss of the season.

AL roundup

Angel beats Angels in marathon game

United Press International

It took an Angel to stop the Angels. Angel Mangual stroked a two-out single in the bottom of the 20th inning early Saturday morning to lift the Oakland Athletics to a 1-0 victory over the California Angels in a record-shattering five hour, five minute marathon.

Mangual's hit ended the game in the last inning possible because of the American League's curfew rule and came at 1:08 a.m. PDT. The game would have been resumed later today if Mangual had been retired.

The clubs broke two major league strikeout records, thanks in large to a 17-strikeout performance by Oakland's Vida Blue, who went the first 11 innings. The two teams set a combined strikeout mark of 43, breaking the record of 36 set in 1964 by the New York Mets and the San Francisco Giants. The Angels' 26 strikeouts also broke the record of 22 set by the Mets in that game.

Billy Cowan of the Angels earned the dubious distinction of tying a major league mark by striking out six times.

The Oakland run came after reliever Mel Queen hit Curt Blefary with a pitch and Dick Green singled. Pinch-hitter Jim Hunter, scheduled to start today's game, struck out before Mangual's deciding hit.

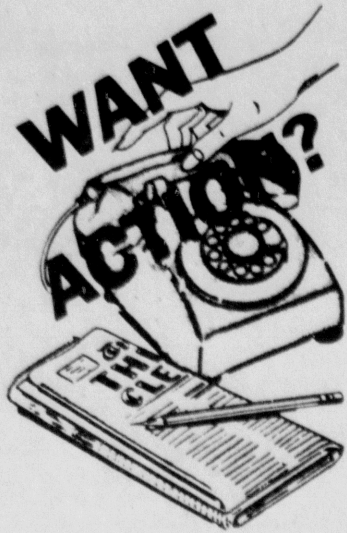

Jim Palmer pitched a fivehitter and Baltimore scored three runs in the first inning with the help of a pair of passed balls by Chuck Hinton to beat the Indians. Don Buford led off the first with a double, took third on a passed ball and scored on an infield out. Elrod Hendricks singled, took third on Merv Rettenmund's hit and scored on Hinton's second passed ball. A pair of walks and a hit batsman forced in the third run.

Ed Brinkman's one-out suicide squeeze in the 11th inning gave Detroit its victory over the Senators. Jim Northrup opened the 11th with a single and advanced to third on a wild pitch and a fly ball before Brinkman's punt.

Joe Horlen pitched a sevenhitter and Carlos May drove in two runs in a four-run second inning as the White Sox beat Milwaukee. May had a two-run single in the inning.

Mel Stottlemyre pitched a four-hitter and snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning with a home run in the Yankees' victory over Boston.

Back-to-back homers by Fred Patek and Paul Schaal with two out in the ninth inning boosted Kansas City past the Twins. Both homers came off Twins' starter Jim Perry and broke a 3-3 tie.

QUESTIONS I GET ABOUT U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. We are in our late 40s, both working now that our three children are grown, and still find that at the start of a new year we're no better off, financially, than we were a year ago. No investments; no savings. Money just seems to dribble through our fingers. What would you suggest?

A. I can't think of any device which would force you into the nearest savings bank on pay day. BUT, I certainly favor a system which would help you put money aside BEFORE you get your wages: A Payroll Savings Plan which would deduct X dollars a week from your wages to be put into Series E Savings Bonds.

The U. S. Treasury is conducting its 1971 Savings Bonds drive. Leading executives of American business and industry are engaged in a campaign to boost 1971 payroll savings deductions for E Bonds by 10 percent over last year's goal.

These men are engaged in a patriotic endeavor—which is fine. What I'm suggesting, however, is that you do something for yourself by building a nest egg this "painless" way; that is, by putting a portion of your wages into tax-deferred E Bonds BEFORE you get it. You'll be surprised at the way the money mounts up.

Q. We are newlyweds, both employed and in a high tax bracket. Our parents argue we ought to build up a nest egg before going into stocks. But the income taxes on the interest cut our effective return down to about 3 percent. Shouldn't we buy low-yield stocks?

A. Not until you acquire a substantial nest egg—as your parents advise. If your joint income puts you into a high tax bracket, your logical "nest egg" medium is U. S. Savings Bonds.

You can get at the money in a moment; they grow at the rate of 5 percent, plus 1/2 of 1 percent at maturity; they are 100 percent backed by the U. S. Government, AND the accumulation of interest doesn't cost you a penny in Federal income tax until such time as you cash in the E Bonds. (U. S. Savings Bonds are exempt from state and local income and personal property taxes.)

Q. Hasn't the time run out for some of the older E Bonds?

A. No. All outstanding E and H Savings Bonds are still earning interest. The Treasury recently announced a third 10-year extension for E Bonds issued from May 1941 through April 1952, a second 10-year extension for E Bonds issued from May 1952 through January 1957, and a second 10-year extension for H Bonds issued from June 1952 through January 1957. Incidentally, Freedom Shares—sold in combination with E Bonds from May 1967 through June 1970—have been granted a 10-year extension, so they, too, will continue to earn interest.

Q. Should I cash in my old E Bonds and buy new ones paying the higher rate?

A. No. The Treasury Department has advised against this procedure. All outstanding Savings Bonds—regardless of age—have had their yields improved so that they, too, benefit from the "bonus" rate. Further, if you redeemed your older Bonds, you'd be subject to income tax on the accrued interest, and could actually suffer a setback.

Detour to decoupage

By WILMA JACK
Vistas Editor

George Johnson, Lompoc's foremost scratchboard artist, has cast his talents toward a glossier art — at least temporarily. Jumping in with both hands, he is one of a number of artists and dilettantes responsible for the resurgence of decoupage.

While scholars struggle over the semantics and boundaries between decoupage, collage and assemblage, the former is the generally accepted art form of applying cutouts to foreign surfaces, blending them to the same levels and finishing the object to an antique buff or high gloss. Items can be either utilitarian or fanciful.

Before signing up for the decoupage classes through the City Recreation Department, Johnson said he did a lot of research into the medium. According to historical sources, the decorative art form began centuries ago in Venice, Italy.

Today, there is no limit to ideas and availability of materials, said Johnson. Swatches of upholstery material, a book of wallpaper, reproductions of paintings, decals, jigsaw puzzles, cutouts from magazines, old cards or treasured family keepsakes and disabled household items offer but a few possibilities. For family memorabilia, transferring an old letter, award certificate, diploma, or special occasion card can mean instant preservation from the elements of time.

Johnson is returning some of these items to other uses, such as serving trays, wall plaques, table tops, jewelry and cigarette boxes. Then there are decorative items, such as the triptych-like panels with reproductions of a medieval scene with a castle and Rembrandt's "The Night Watch." Both accommodate themselves admirably to four-paneled divisions.

What was once a framed oval mirror has been reworked into an attractive serving tray. With an electric jigsaw, Johnson cut out a masonite oval for the new backing. George felt the tray should be decorated appropriately with fruit. He removed a color print of pears from a publication, sprayed it on both sides with a clear plastic fixative. Next, he traced out the jagged borders around the design, then carefully tore the edges on the reverse side with his fingers to achieve the feathered, beveled look and to prevent a white edging.

Using an acrylic glue diluted with water, he

HOMEWORK

GROVE, England (UPI)—Neighbors complained to local authorities when Christopher Lee moved in and took his work home with him. Lee is an undertaker. "When people buy houses and find a neighbor bringing home coffins, it can considerably detract from the amenities they hoped to enjoy," said a spokesman for the Wantage Rural Council. The council found that Lee did not have planning permission to store coffins at home but gave him the go-ahead to keep them at his nearby office.

Named for Him

Harvard University is named for an immigrant Puritan minister, John Harvard, who died in 1638 leaving half of his estate and 400 books to the school, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Fabulous antique show and sale at Monterey

Monterey, the cradle of California's history, will host the 14th Annual Monterey Peninsula Antique Show and Sale, sponsored by St. Mary's by-the-Sea Episcopal Church, July 16, 17 and 18, at the Exposition Hall of the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

In Stevenson House along the "Path of History" one can see the juxtaposition of many periods of fine design, including antiques that once belonged to Robert Louis Stevenson. The Monterey History and Art Association have collected other things that might have been in the house during his residency.

However, those who would like to acquire their own antiques will have a rare opportunity at the Monterey Peninsula Antique Show and Sale where 25 selected dealers present historic items from pre-Columbian artifacts from Mexico to 18th Century furniture and bibelots. Art glass, rare books, prints, antique jewelry and souvenir spoons are but a few items to choose from. Some are quite inexpensive; others, such as fine Oriental vases, of museum calibre.

For the convenience of the patrons, the ladies of St. Mary's by-the-Sea Episcopal Church will operate a Country Kitchen Snack Bar with home-made salads, sandwiches, cakes and pies during the hours of the Show, from noon until 9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from noon until 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Other events in the area during the same weekend are the Bach Music Festival in Carmel, the Salinas Rodeo, and a Soap Box Derby at Laguna Seca.

Dealers participating in the 14th Monterey Peninsula antique show July 16, 17 and 18, Exposition Hall, Monterey County Fairgrounds include:

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Viewers in Great Britain saw a "blue moon" on the night of Sept. 26, 1950. The World Almanac notes that the phenomenon was caused by sulphur particles in the upper atmosphere from a vast forest fire in British Columbia, Canada. The moon also appeared a bluish color following the eruption of the volcano Krakatoa in 1883.

Tom Jones to star at Inglewood

Tom Jones bounces into the Inglewood Forum the night of Aug. 20, bringing with him a line-up of superb entertainers including Pat Henry, one of Las Vegas' favorite comics; The Blossoms, a popular singing group; and Jeff Sturgis and The Universe.

Although the show is almost six weeks away, tickets are already on sale at the Forum box office and all Southland agencies. Seats for most theatrical attractions are usually available only three weeks ahead of the date. But the promoters felt that with superstar Tom Jones ducats would be in such demand that they should go on sale much earlier.

Tickets for the Jones bash are priced at $15, $12.50, $10, $8, and $6. Additionally, mail orders are now being taken at all ticket outlets.

Life preserver

Does your child's life preserver still fit? A child outgrows his life preserver, according to the National Automobile Club, just as easily as he does his clothing. Before the two of you go boating, give him another life-preserver fitting.

SUNDAY, JULY 11 — Born today, you are self-assertive and gifted with an extremely keen sense of foresight and intuitive knowledge of all kinds. An outstanding conversationalist, you have the edge on others in any sort of venture in which the ability to verbalize ideas before others is required. This is especially true where it is necessary to draw others into an expression of their own notions, for you have the ability to help others to put into words even the most difficult of conceptions.

With clearness and force, you exercise a combination of wit and justice, using your cleverness to state whatever needs expression at any given time and your sense of fair play to guarantee that the innocent do not get hurt by whatever statements you so make. One who needs a great deal of admiration from others, you nevertheless will not sacrifice the smallest fraction of your integrity in order to gain that admiration.

A highly active individual, you often surprise those who know you little by your displays of intellectual fireworks. Because you are usually found where the activity is greatest, you are not expected to be an "idea man" — or woman — or to come up with the solutions to problems. That you can both think things through AND act on your thoughts surprises many.

Monday, July 12

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — The financial affairs of another could profit from some honest criticism from you. Let another into your own state of affairs.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Keep reasoning faculties sharpened on your own problems and you won't run the risk of being accused of interfering in the affairs of others.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — An excellent time to advance your social ambitions. Others are willing and eager to introduce you to influential friends — and enemies.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Your judgment could well be afflicted by the morning's setbacks, minor though they may be. Save decisions for evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — All manner of business and financial affairs are favored at this time — but only if you've laid plans well.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Friendships, courtship, marriage, personal relationships of all kinds: these are favored early in the day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Influence for neither ill nor good should interrupt your destiny today. Stick to the course of action that serves you best.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Postpone making any important decision regarding your family's future. You may have new material to consider very soon.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — A highly progressive day for the Pisces who isn't afraid to try new methods of operation. Old goals seem attainable now.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Contact friends of the family. You may find yourself out on a limb this afternoon; don't saw it off by mistake.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Social activities you've been looking forward to may not turn out as well as you'd hoped. Console yourself with friends at evening.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — A fortunate period begins now for the honorable Gemini. A matter of integrity forces you to prove yourself — which you do well.

Unique land-air Mexico tour

Greyhound Lines-West and Western Airlines have teamed to offer a unique 15-day land and air tour to Mexico.

The new drive-and-fly concept developed jointly by the carriers offers vacationers a close-up, Greyhound-view of Mexico's fascinating countryside and exotic cities — followed by a fast and comfortable return flight on Western from Acapulco or Mexico City.

The combined approach allows time-pressed travelers to see the best that is Mexico, yet return in the space of a usual two-week vacation. And costs are moderate, beginning at just $393 for a complete round-trip tour from Los Angeles, $438 from San Francisco.

Greyhound's part of the dual tour leaves all the driving to someone else, as well as all the arrangements. Each tour is fully escorted, and includes round-trip transportation by Greyhound and Western, quality accommodations, sightseeing excursions, baggage handling, and many other comprehensive features.

The return part of the tour takes less than four hours, features Mexican beverages and gourmet cuisine on Western's popular Fiesta Flight from Acapulco or Mexico City to San Francisco or Los Angeles.

The tour departs regularly from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Phoenix and Tucson, with easy connections available to those cities from all other points.

Following Greyhound's San Francisco departure, the comfortable and air conditioned Scenicruiser travels to the Mexican border at Hermosillo via Los Angeles, Phoenix and Tucson.

Once in Mexico, the tour proceeds to picturesque Mazatlan after exploring Guaymas, Los Mochis and Culiacan. Next major stop is the famous resort at Puerto Vallarta on the Mexican coast.

The group next arrives in Mexico City after a leisurely look at some of Mexico's most interesting cities — Tequila, Guadalajara, Tlaquepaque, Leon and Guanajuato.

While in Mexico City for an extended stay, the tour group will be treated to a get-acquainted tour of that great city, a special gala dinner, and tickets to the renowned Ballet Folklorico de Mexico.

Optional excursions are also offered from Mexico City to Oaxaca and Vera Cruz, with air return from Mexico City on Western.

Vacationers not taking the optional excursions will proceed to Acapulco on Greyhound by way of beautiful Guernavaca.

On the fifteenth day, following ample time in world famous Acapulco, the group will return to San Francisco or Los Angeles by Western, with connections available to all other cities. Travelers may also extend their time in Mexico before returning.

Travel throughout the tour is on a private Greyhound coach.

Complete information and literature on the special Mexico tour is available from any Greyhound Center or Western Airlines office, or any travel agent.

The two-cent letter

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was written using the files of the Record and Marguerite Hall as informative sources.)

TRUDY SCHOENFELDT

The days of the two-cent letter are long gone. The price of mailing had risen to this level in 1925 and the people were outraged at the increased cost of postal service. These were the days when a Coke cost a nickel, cigarettes were 15 cents a pack and a silk bathrobe could be bought for $8.

Lompoc's first post office opened its doors in 1875 under the supervision of B. F. Tucker. The expanded tri-weekly stage service to Santa Maria was also under his jurisdiction, and, as there were only two employees, they were kept quite busy making sure everything ran smoothly.

As the town grew, the post office kept pace. In the 96 years that it has been operating, it has moved eight times, each time to a bigger and better place.

Lompoc was growing at such a rate that in 1927 the office decided to make its seventh move. The city took bids on the financing of the new building and the Moore Mercantile Company's bid was accepted. The building that is now the warehouse for Moore's Department Store was the structure that was built.

It was grand and modern for those times. The staff was large, six employees and a substitute, and the building had four service windows instead of three as there had been in the old office. The major improvement was that there was 50 per cent more floor space, allowing the workers greater mobility in moving the mail that flooded the office.

The changeover to this modern structure took place smoothly. The entire setup was moved in one day, a Sunday, and the office opened at the usual time on Monday. The saying that the mail must go through seems to have been the watchword of the movers.

Everything was under control. The only hitch people found in the usual procedure was that the numbers on the post boxes ran upward from the front instead of from the back. The next step forward was to be city carrier delivery.

This post office building adequately handled mail service in Lompoc for 35 years. The post office that is presently on the corner of W. Ocean and O Street was built in 1962, and true to the tradition that Wells Fargo Pony Express started in the west, the mail still goes through.

The small town, personalized post office has constantly changed to fit the needs of an expanding community. Mechanized mail gets lost sometimes, but then things are more complex than they were in the days when the postmaster knew nearly all the people in town.

MIC regulates motorcycle noise

For the first time, a recreational vehicle industry group has launched a national attack on noise pollution created by its own products. The Motorcycle Industry Council, representing more than 90 per cent of motorcycle manufacturers, recently passed a joint resolution to limit the noise level emissions of its products.

This new self-regulating noise standard will be met by the members of MIC starting December, 1971.

The standard is 92 decibels and is considered by independent experts to be a big improvement on current levels, especially for motorcycles used primarily for off-road purposes.

An intensive public information campaign, with the theme "Less Sound — More Ground" has been launched by MIC. This campaign, aimed at the rider as well as the public, will bring together thousands of Dealers across the country.

swabs on the paste generously, he added. A damp paper towel to affix the design on the backing and a rubber hand roller further evens out the design, working out excess glue around the edges.

Johnson stressed the necessity for absolute smoothness. "Watch out for bubbles and wrinkles, or stretching the paper by distortion," he advised. George allows the decoupage to dry for 24 hours before applying several coats of varnish.

"In decoupage you have to bury the object (design). No edge should be felt," said Johnson. Therefore, he feels that "sanding is highly important" in the process, and "the secret" to good decoupage "is putting varnish on correctly." Six coats or more are used to "sink" the design.

Wet and dry sandpaper, placed around a felted wooden block, is used in the "milking process." This is accomplished by placing water on the varnished surface of the object, then buffing just enough to take off the high spots to make the work absolutely level. The interaction between water and sanding renders the affected areas a whitish color temporarily. Sometimes the application of steel wool is used between sandings, or wax is rubbed into the surface of the backing.

One of the very last steps, according to Johnson, is polishing the decoupage with a piano finish (oil and a powder mixed until pasty.)

Johnson has to date completed some 30 pieces of decoupage, with about half a dozen currently in various stages.

Any advise for a beginner? George nodded. "Start out with a simple square plaque" he said, before attempting the more elaborate projects.

ON VACATION

Some are in a constant dither,
Rushing hither, racing thither.

Some just sit around and talk.

Others, who prefer to walk,

Leave the car or cycle seat

And put the mileage on their feet.

Water-skiing guidelines

To the sound of a roaring outboard motor, the careless water-skier flashes by, his big thrill being suddenly spoiled by a big spill.

One of America's fastest-growing sports, gliding across the water on skis can provide you with many safe adventures if you follow these guidelines offered by the National Automobile Club:

1. Limber up before skiing.
2. Obey the local regulations.
3. Give the six basic hand signals.
4. Stay alert.
5. Avoid abrupt maneuvers.
6. Keep out of congested areas.
7. Use common sense.

Highway surfacing

Some type of asphalt aggregate mixture, reports the National Automobile Club, now makes up the surfacing of approximately 29,000 miles of state highway in California.
